

NIKK's information letter provides you with information about research, policies, knowledge and practice in the area of gender equality in the Nordic countries. During 2020, issues relating to gender equality and sustainability in the future of work have a particular priority in NIKK's activities, which is also apparent in what we have chosen to communicate.

Ministers and young people meet through the campaign #GenerationEqualityNordic

The Nordic Ministers for Gender Equality want to shape the gender agenda alongside young activists. Through the Instagram campaign #GenerationEqualityNordic young people from the Nordic region can highlight their perspectives on gender equality challenges. The Ministers promise to bring the views of Nordic youth to the UN and the global political arena they participate in.

Check out the campaign's Instagram account and follow the hashtag #GenerationEqualityNordic to learn more about young people's perspectives on gender equality issues.

The campaign is an initiative by the Danish Presidency of the Nordic Council of Ministers 2020. NIKK has been commissioned to run it. The campaign is the Nordic countries' contribution to UN Women's international campaign Generation Equality,

Young voices in focus during the Danish presidency

This year Denmark holds the presidency of the Nordic Council of Ministers. 2020 also marks the 25th anniversary of the Beijing Platform, which is also making its mark in Nordic gender equality efforts.

Young people's engagement is a main focus throughout the year, making room in particular for young people to get involved and set the agenda for the future. Read more in our interview with Kira Appel, Deputy Head of the Department of Gender Equality in the Danish government.
