

Frequently Asked Questions – Nordic LGBTI Fund Call for proposals

1. What activities are funded through the Nordic LGBTI Fund?

The Nordic LGBTI Fund supports a wide range of activities supporting the work for equal rights, equal treatment, and equal opportunities for LGBTI people in the Nordic countries.

The aims of the projects can be to contribute new knowledge, a sharing of experiences or Nordic networks.

This includes for example:

- Good practise exchange,
- Creation and piloting of new tools,
- Working with target groups within the community
- Organising Nordic workshops
- Network-building
- Participation of NGOs/voluntary organisations in Nordic or international meetings

2. The projects are to consist of cooperation between a minimum of three different partners from three different Nordic countries. How are organisations from for example Faroe Islands, Greenland and Åland considered?

An organisation with activities/offices in several countries is still considered as one organisation belonging to one country, often the country of the head office. Each project must involve at least three different partners and at least three Nordic countries, where the Faroe Islands, Greenland and Åland may constitute one of these on an equal level.

In addition, Baltic countries can be included in a project with minimum two Nordic organisations.

Please note that the principal applicant should come from a Nordic country or the Faroe Islands, Greenland or Åland.

3. How can organisations from the Baltic States be included?

Grants can be awarded to activities that include cooperation in neighbouring areas, such as Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania when the project include at least two Nordic countries.

Please note that the principal applicant should come from a Nordic country (Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden) or the Faroe Islands, Greenland or Åland.

4. Can organisations from Russia or Belarus be included?

No. The LGBTI-fund follows the policy of the Nordic Council of Ministers concerning co-operation with countries outside the Nordic region. The Nordic Council of Ministers has suspended all its co-operation with Russia and Belarus. This decision has been made in response to Russia's military attack on Ukraine.

5. How much money can be applied for? How much money is available in total in this year's call for proposal?

The amount applied for should be between DKK 50 000 and DKK 500 000/project.

Organisations applying for grants need to be able to contribute at least 20 per cent themselves and/or have other sources of finance.

In 2024, the total available funding for the call for proposals is approx. 1,2 MDKK.

NIKK welcomes a mix of various projects, and it is as welcome to initiate a new cooperation or to organise a smaller workshop, for example, as it is to apply for funds for a more substantial method development project. If a smaller project is initiated, it is possible to apply in the following years for a further elaborated/next phase of the project.

6. What are the possible forms of the organisations' own contribution (20 %) to financing the project?

The organisation's own contribution and/or other sources of funding could come from sponsorship or other financial contributions, voluntary work, participant fees, or indirect costs for example.

7. What are eligible costs and what are ineligible costs?

NIKK receives various questions on what is eligible and what is not. Here are some of the costs that are most frequently addressed.

Salary costs for project staff in relation to activities carried out in the project are eligible costs.

Office space needed for project staff for the designated working time in the project is also considered eligible.

Please note that travel costs are only funded for representatives of volunteer organisations/NGO's and invited speakers at an event.

8. What cannot be funded?

Funding will not be given for audits or indirect costs.

Indirect costs include overhead costs, such as the costs for general administration, for example a central economic function in a larger organisation or other running costs that cannot be related to a specific assignment (such as rent, electricity, IT-support).

In addition, please note that funding will not be granted for

- Activities already financed wholly or in part by Nordic Council of Ministers for Gender Equality (MR-JÄM), or other sectors within the Nordic Council of Ministers.
- Political party organisations.
- Private individuals.
- Activities whose purpose is to generate a profit or equivalent for the funding beneficiary.

9. Should the project plan be written in English or is it ok to write in any Nordic language?

You are welcome to write the application (including the project plan) in English or in one of the Scandinavian languages Danish, Norwegian or Swedish.

10. How is the cooperation within the project expected to be implemented?

The principal applicant is the main contact point for NIKK in terms of contracting and administrative procedures. It is therefore good if the main applicant has some experience of project management.

The principal applicant is responsible to keep their cooperation partners in the project updated on any relevant information from NIKK.

While the principal applicant is responsible for coordinating the cooperation within the project, NIKK does not require the partnership to be formalised through written agreements. This means that it is up to the cooperation partners to agree on how to cooperate in the projects more precisely.

In terms of the application form, the sections on implementation and assignment of roles, could be useful in terms of deciding on how the project will be implemented more concretely. This gives you the possibility to look in to how the practical implementation of the project will be organised. Here you can clarify how the participating organisations complement one another and what each partner brings to the table. There is also some additional space in the separate project plan document to be attached to the application where you also have the possibility to clarify what is to be done by whom and when.

11. In relation to the application form, what do you expect in terms of the section called Project plan?

The project plan to be attached to the project application gives the applicants the possibility to explain what they plan to do in the project in their own words. Information usually included here are, for example, the rationale of the project in terms of problem to be solved, what activities that are planned in order to reach the objectives as well as the overall timetable (what is to be done by whom and when).

12. How are applications assessed?

Applications are assessed in relation to how the project meets the following selection criteria:

- a. Nordic benefit
- b. Contributions to work for equal rights, treatment and opportunities for LGBTI people in the Nordic countries

- c. Sustainability/Long-term perspective
- d. Implementation
- e. Economic Viability

Please see the section on How are applications assessed? in the guide for applicants and the Purpose & Criteria section of the guidelines for more information on the selection criteria.

All project applications are assessed by NIKK’s assessment team, which consists of people with a variety of skills and backgrounds. The assessment team processes each application based on the selection criteria and makes a decision. The Nordic Committee of Senior Officials for Gender Equality and LGBTI then have the option to veto a decision. The decision cannot be appealed.

If necessary, the assessment team may ask for clarification from the applicant during the assessment process.

13. What do you mean by “Nordic benefit”?

The guidelines refer to which extent the project:

- generates significant positive effects through Nordic cooperation, compared to the project having been implemented at the national level
- manifests and develops Nordic cohesion, both within and outside the region
- contributes new infrastructure that strengthens Nordic cooperation on LGBTI
- responds in a constructive way to the challenges of Nordic cooperation such as national barriers and differences.

In the assessment process, the application will be assessed on how well it:

- justifies why the project should be implemented as Nordic cooperation;
- describes the added value and the challenges that the cooperating parties perceive in working together across country borders.

14. When can the approved project expect to be able to start their projects, and how long is the maximum project period?

Projects are required to start their activities no later than in the beginning of 2025 and can start project implementation as soon as both parties have signed the contract.

The project period is maximum two years from the start of the project.

15. What is expected in terms of reporting and administration?

Once a project has been granted funding, the principal applicant is required to draw up a contract with NIKK in accordance with specific procedures. After the contract is signed, payment can be made. Standard procedure is that 75 per cent of the activity's total funding amount is paid based on a requisition at the start of the project, with the remaining 25 per cent being paid after approval of the final report.

The applicant should take into account that funds will be paid to them at the earliest one month after requisitioning the funds.

NIKK usually keep in touch with the approved projects during the project period and ask for a brief status within the first year of implementation.

The principal applicant is responsible to coordinate activities with the cooperation partners.

The principal applicant is responsible for submitting the final report (self-evaluation) and financial accounts to NIKK no later than two months after the end of the project. Any unused funds are to be repaid to NIKK.

For more information on the final reporting, please see the section "Decisions, Contracts and Reporting" in the Guidelines.

16. In the application form there is both a project description and a problem formulation - What is the difference?

While the project description is a brief summary of the project as a whole, the problem formulation is a section where the main problem to be addressed in the project is described.

17. How do we get more information and answers to specific questions?

NIKK organises a digital information event around the time of the call for proposals opens each year. You may also send your questions to nikk@genus.gu.se and we will answer them as soon as possible.

18. What is a SME – small and medium-sized enterprise?

SMEs are defined as employing less than 250 persons.
